DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sun et al (6,450,894). Sun discloses a golf putter head comprising a central portion and two end portions. The central portion is made from a light weight material and the end portions or toe and heel portions are made from a heavy material. The densities of the toe and heel portions are greater than the density of the central portion (abstract). The central portion includes a threaded opening for receiving threaded rods/screws from the toe and heel portions for engagement. The shapes of the toe and heel portions are equivalent to the shape of the central portion. Sun does not disclose the screw made integral with the weighted pieces. However, one of ordinary skill in the art would make the pieces integral as an obvious design choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-11 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7-5-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant is claiming threaded rods made integral which is equivalent to the threaded rod (separate) in Sun. The specification does not support or suggest any reason other than design choice as to the benefits or unexpected results produced by making the screws integral; therefore the rejection is maintained. See In re Larson, 340 F.2d 965, 968, 144 USPQ 347, 349 (CCPA 1965).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
